

Picture Copyright Malcolm Nunn

Points of Interest

1 The Sands

A group of old houses called Ivy Cottages once stood at the far side of the bridge but were demolished in the 1960s. People living there had to fetch water from the stream as there was no mains water in the cottages.

2 Kirkgate Steps

The Kirkgate Steps (also known as the Fairy Steps) lead up towards the church at High Bradfield. It is thought this was an old burial path to High Bradfield church.

3 Agden reservoir

The reservoir was completed in 1869 and holds 560 million gallons of water. The word 'agden' means 'valley of the oak trees'.

4 Agden Bog Nature Reserve

The area on the right of the track is a nature reserve known as Agden Bog. It is home to a number of rare plants, including bog asphodel, sundew and various sphagnum mosses.

5 Agden House

A large farmhouse, dating from the 1600s, was situated on the left at the top of the path until it was demolished in the 1970s. Today only the barn and part of the garden remains. Continue on the track ahead of you after crossing the stone bridge if you wish to see the site.

6 Agden Lodge

Although it is not visible from this walk, there is a large house on the hillside above the reservoir, surrounded by pine trees. This is Agden Lodge, constructed in 1870, for Samuel Fox of Stocksbridge. It is thought he used the house as a shooting lodge, although he never lived there himself. It is a private house today.

7 Barn

The ruined barn near the end of the road has a plaque on the wall stating that in 1826 the curate was solely responsible for paying for the rebuilding of the barn, with an inscription in Latin.

8 Fairhouse Lane

Fairhouse Farm stands below the bus turning circle and is one of the oldest houses in the area, dating from the 1630s. It was originally called Swinden House. Fairhouse Cottages, demolished in the 1970s, also stood near here.

Agden Reservoir

A short walk from Low Bradfield around Agden reservoir

Length – 2.5 miles | Time – 1.5 hours

References:

Bradfield Local History Group, 'Bygones of Bradfield' Volume 2, Hilltop Press, Sheffield.

Acknowledgements:

Research, photographs and proofing by Rural Research. Route by Terrier Designs. Historical photographs supplied by and copyright of Malcolm Nunn, Archivist, Bradfield Parish Council. Designed and printed by Oakleaf Graphics Ltd. Produced for Bradfield Parish Council by CMP Consultancy.

Funded by East Peak Innovation Partnership LEADER Programme and Peak District National Park Authority Sustainable Development Fund.

For more information on walks in Bradfield visit www.bradfield-walkers.org.uk

Copyright Bradfield Parish Council

Bradfield Parish Council
Walks and Trails

Agden Reservoir

A short walk from Low Bradfield around Agden reservoir

Starting in Low Bradfield the walk climbs gently, then after a short section on a quiet road the route goes around Agden Reservoir, using a path created by Yorkshire Water. The route crosses the stream by a footbridge and then returns to Low Bradfield through woodland by the reservoir. There is a short final section on roads.

Route Instructions

At the entrance to the car park turn right and go down the track which runs along the rear of the car park, towards the tennis courts (See Points of Interest 1). Take care as the flag stones on this path are uneven and can be slippery.

Do not cross the bridge, instead continue up by the stream to the next bridge.

Cross the bridge and go up the stone steps 2, and then take the path beside a wooden fence to the road (Smallfield Lane).

Beware of traffic.

Turn left and go along the road.

Continue along the road until you reach the entrance gate to the permissive path around Agden reservoir 3. The gate is clearly signed by Yorkshire Water.

at Fair House Lane / Smithy Bridge Road, Low Bradfield.

Refreshments – The Postcard Café, The Plough Inn, Low Bradfield; Old Horns Inn, High Bradfield.

Public Toilets – Low Bradfield.

Grid Reference - SK 2626 9204

Follow the path round the reservoir. The path runs along the side of the reservoir and then turns up to a wooden gate. Turn left and go down the track until you reach a wooden foot bridge on the left.

4
Cross the footbridge over the stream that flows into the reservoir (The site of the former Agden House 5 is up the track across the stone bridge.)

Turn left off the bridge and go through the stile. 6

Take the path through the woods by the reservoir. The path swings into the woods at points rather than following the shore.

As you reach the dam wall take the exit from the path onto the road (Windy Bank).

Turn left and follow the road down towards Low Bradfield, past the ruined barn 7 on the right.

At the T junction, turn left onto Fairhouse Lane 8 and go down the hill into the village.

The car park is off to the left and the bus stop straight ahead.

Details

Grade - Gentle ascents. A short section on roads. The paths are well defined.

Start - Car park, The Sands, Low Bradfield.

Parking – as above.

Public transport - Buses 61 and 62 from Hillsborough stop

